Quick Comment:

I implore you to remove the 'no overnight parking' signs from the Borders car parks and, instead, have a look at what is happening in the Highland region, Hawick and Kielder. From the North East of England, we often travel to the borders in our motorhome and, as we have spent a lot of money purchasing it, we would not choose any other form of accommodation instead (including expensive campsites with facilities we don't need).

During our recent overnight stay in Hawick's car park, we bought food from the local shops for our evening meal, breakfast in one of the local cafes and some clothes, medicines and toys for our dogs as well as a dinner set for our home that I had been looking for for some time.

Overall, we spent about £100 that night.

If you are able to provide the same for motorhomers as Hawick do, we will come to visit the Borders several times a year but, if not, we will just transit through on our way to areas that do provide for us.
