Quick Comment:

I was very sorry to hear about this planning proposal. Abbotsford is a simply wonderful place to walk and appreciate the lovely setting of the Border landscape. It would indeed be a tragedy for the Planning authority to permit house building on this site.

Although tree planting can provide some concealment the trees in turn will have changed the environment and set a prescedant to give the opportunity for further buildings to hide behind trees!

Unfortunately the result of approving the erection of 45 houses will attract further future development as we know and in turn the unacceptable change in the environment of a very positive tourism area which brings wealth to the region.
