Dear planners,

Anybody who loves Scott must be appalled at the proposed desecration of the view from Abbotsford. Scott put his soul into this house. He filled it full of his antiquarian treasures and he invited people to stay in it. From the beginning, he cared equally for its surroundings. He would be heartbroken at these proposals.

Abbotsford attracts visitors from all over the world. Scott would have liked them to see himself, unimpeded by these new houses.

With best wishes,

Ruth Mateer
