Quick Comment:

I wish to object to the proposed Netherbarns housing development. Abbotsford House is one of Scotland's iconic heritage buildings and its location with undisturbed views of nature and the countryside form part of the essence of the place. Unlike the existing nearby developments, the proposed development is in direct line of sight of Abbotsford House and is therefore both intellectually and emotionally jarring. While appreciating the need to find suitable sites for domestic housing, this site, on any view, will not enhance the Abbotsford House experience for tourists and locals alike. It may contribute towards meeting a short term social need, but it will not provide a sustained enhancement to anything else. The Netherbarns site should be conserved for nature.....permanently.
