Quick Comment:

With reference to AGALA029 Netherbarns, I would like to express my concern about any development that impairs the view from Abbotsford across the Tweed. Abbotsford is simply too valuable both historically and culturally to allow a modern housing development to detract from the importance of the house and its grounds.

As a regular user of the Abbotsford estate grounds, I am aware of just how many local visitors of all ages the grounds attract on a daily basis all year round for relaxing exercise. This is only to be applauded and must not be compromised. This is quite apart from the many visitors from outwith the area who come to the Galashiels area to visit the house and grounds.

I trust these comments will be noted in any discussions about this proposed development.
