What are your comments regarding this site?:

Abbotsford House is one of the iconic historic and cultural buildings in Scotland and with its visitor centre attracts very large numbers including many from overseas . It goes without saying that every effort should be made to protect and preserve it's invaluable status to the Borders.

The proposed development directly across the Tweed would without doubt significantly damage the visual amenity that Abbotsford enjoys and adds so much to it's overall significance. It is Scottish Borders Council's responsibility to ensure that Abbotsford is preserved and protected for future generations.
