RE: SITE CODE BD200

Dear Sir

MW

I have written to you before re the above.

Things have not changed, golf balls still come over the hedges on a very regular basis, and they do not just land behind the hedges, my kitchen is to the back of the house, so I see all that is going on, council workers even stop on a regular basis (in their break time), to look for golf balls, they know they will find them behind the hawthorn hedge on the road side, (but in the field).

Sorry to go on, but it would be very dangerous to build houses there, especially if children are playing outdoors, to say nothing of people getting their windows put in. I do not expect you to take my word, I do have proof.

Please keep this for reference.

Excuse writing, fingers are not working properly just now,

Yours faithfully
